THE PANORAMA is included in the eight basic plans offered in the De Anza sub-division. The plans have been subjected to revisions to make 30 different type homes. Ground for the first of the new homes was broken two weeks ago. The homes have been designed to fit the rolling hillsides of their El Sobrante location.

THE DE ANZA is one of the types of homes to be built in the De Anza Vista sub-division now being developed in the El Sobrante hills. The new development will one day include an 11-acre grammar school and 10-acre shopping center. The first 196 homes of the 1,400 home model community are now under construction.
